"THE STAIN"

The Pastime presents to the public the greatest of human interest dramas, "The Stain." Two former Vitaphone stars, Eleanor Woodruff and Virginia Pearson, play the leads, strongly supported by an all star cast. The picture is in six parts and is a dramatization of a great novel by Robert H. Davis and Forrest Halsey. It is a high class picture and will delight the most exacting patrons. It is a very beautiful play, strong in human interest and in love and faithfulness of a mother on one side as against the villainy and treachery of the husband on the other. Special matinee will be given this afternoon at reduced prices, all seats will be 10 cents. First performance beginning at 1:30 sharp. Night prices will be, adults 15c; children 10c.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENT

Was the Elegant Reception Given at the Home of Mrs. P. P. Parker Wednesday Afternoon.

In response to about three hundred invitations issued in town and county the palatial home of Mrs. Peter Preston Parker was the scene of a festive gathering on Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The reception was given in honor of Miss Ellen Shanklin, the prospective bride and was one of numerous functions which are being held in her honor in town and vicinity; all attesting to a peculiar degree the unusual popularity of this one of society's favorites and the deep regret felt throughout the community in losing her so soon from their midst.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Parker, Miss Shanklin, Mrs. Nannie Clark, Miss Agnes Shanklin and Miss Allie Wells, who were ably assisted in entertaining the guests by Mrs. Albert Shanklin, the mother of the guest of honor, Mrs. Jas. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Tom Keith, Mrs. John Everett, Mrs. Robert Owens, Mrs. Chas. Hopper, Mrs. M. Davis, Mrs. John Parker, Mrs. Tommie Ellis, Mrs. Geo. Wood Owens, Mrs. Jas. Riley, Mrs. McGuire, and Mrs. W. W. Robb.

Presiding over the punch bowl which was located on the back veranda, a scene of verdant beauty, banked as it was, with plants, refreshed by cooling sprays, were Miss Elizabeth Barbour, Miss Ethel Owens and Miss Ellen Kirk.

The appointments throughout were elegant and beautiful; the electric lights, the profusion of flowers, the candles, shades, etc., all corresponding to the general color scheme of the rooms. The long dining room was a realm of delight to the artistic eye and the refreshments were ingeniously wrought into shapes and forms as delicate and beautiful as they were palatable. The strains of melody from the stringed instruments cast a musical glamour over the whole and infused a musical spirit into the assembled throng.

With Mrs. Parker as hostess the hospitality was unexcelled and the occasion one of the most successful ever given in Maysville.

Complimentary to Miss Ellen Shanklin, Miss Ethel Owens entertained with a punch party on last Friday morning.

Five hundred afforded the guests amusement and aside from the usual prizes a golden basket filled with roses was presented to Miss Shanklin, the guest of honor.

An appetizing salad course was served.

The Sunday School class of Mrs. Lily Wells of the Second M. E. Church South gave a very delightful picnic on the river shore above town yesterday. This is the second picnic the young ladies have given this summer and they all report a most enjoyable day.

French Machines Sent Up To Engage One German Aeroplane.

Paris, France, Sept. 2, 11:20 p. m.—A fight in the air over Paris took place this evening. Three German aeroplanes hovered over the capital and immediately two French machines were sent up to engage them. Meanwhile rifle and machine guns mounted on public buildings kept up a constant fire. By this means one of the German machines became separated from the others and the French aviator flew after it. The Germans opened fire to which the French replied.

The engagement seemed to turn to the disadvantage of the German machine which mounted speedily to a higher level, and holding this position, was saved from further attack. It finally disappeared in a northwest direction over Port Romainville, after vain pursuit.

The other German aeroplanes also escaped the fire of the guns and after circling about for a time disappeared from view.

French Capital Is Moved to Bordeaux About 350 Miles Southwest of Paris.

The state seat of the French government is to be removed from Paris to Bordeaux, which lies 350 miles southwest of Paris. The proclamation announcing this action, refers to it as a temporary arrangement.

Regarding the progress of the battle which the Germans are waging on French and Belgian soil both French and British governments are silent. The movement of the troops are meagerly reported and it has been impossible through these reports to form an idea of how the tide of battle is flowing.

Direct advice from the Russian capital gives the report of the battle lasting seven days between the Russian and Austrians around Lemberg, capital of Galicia, in which the Russians were successful, forcing the Austrians to retreat and seizing fortified positions. The Russians captured 150 guns and the Austrians are said to have suffered great losses. Three Austrian army corps were engaged.

French aviators have pursued a German aeroplane over Paris. There was an exchange of shots in the air but the Germans escaped.

Russia admits a serious defeat in East Prussia at the hand of the Germans. In this battle two Russian army corps were badly cut and three generals and a number of staff officers were killed.

An official report from Paris says that a German cavalry corps marching near Campagne engaged the British, and the British captured ten guns.

"In other regions of the war the Russian army is investing Koenigsberg. The Russian victory which is complete at Lemberg has already been announced."

THE CALL FOR AMERICANS

TO QUIT EUROPE.

The suggestion of the State Department for the immediate return of all Americans from Europe is timely, and should be heeded by those abroad.
 The opinions of military experts like Lord Roberts and Earl Kitchener as to the duration of the struggle are worthy of far greater consideration than those who have been forwarding such misleading accounts of victories from London, Paris and Antwerp—victories invariably followed by retreats of the always victorious forces in Belgium and France.

War in many of its operations in the field is a game of chance, but there is much advantage in every game of chance to those who have the experience of former playing and are fully acquainted with the significance of each stage of the play.

There have been much more hopes and suggestions of victory in the news that has been allowed to come to the United States through the allied censorship than there has been of actual victory, and this illusive and delusive feature of French, Belgian, British and Russian dispatches is evidently struck at by Lord Roberts when he declares Britain needs hundreds of thousands more of men, and Kitchener states officially that he is preparing for years of war.

Indications are strong that Turkey, Italy, Greece and Bulgaria will be involved in the conflict ere many weeks pass, and the call by France of Senegalese, her Spahis and Turens to the field, and their almost complete obliteration in three weeks by the Germans, is now followed by Britain's call for the negroes of her West Indian regiments, her Hindus and Soudanese, to take their places in front of the Tenthers.

If Turkey enters the conflict the Mohammedans will mix in with the Christians and the worshippers of Buddha and Brahma in what, to the first, will be a holy war, but which to the peace-loving people of the United States seems to be a veritable inferno.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

It was said in Washington that the government would make its shipping adventure only in the event that private capital refused, and that the government would make its effort chiefly in the lines not profitable, but with promise of becoming so. Is the government's judgment better than that of men long in the business? Ought government to seek profits of any sort, especially those admittedly doubtful? Will the government account be kept in the manner required of other corporations? Or will it be the sort of government accounting which shows profits by not including costs, or sometimes by not paying costs despite the protests of those whose services are requisitioned?—New York Times.

The Russian army must get itself across the Vistula River before it is a serious danger to Germany, and there is a line of well-fortified and no doubt well-guarded forts east of the Vistula which will have to be taken by the Russians in order to make a movement across that river safe. It is reported, too, that the Czar has himself gone to the front or in that neighborhood, and without doubt he has taken along his favorite mawkish astrologer or spiritualistic medium to tell him what to do, and this is not bad for Germany.—Hartford Courant.

"BIBLES FOR SOLDIERS"—WHY?

Christian agencies of Germany appear to be taking up work among the soldiers in arms. The American Bible Society has received an application from Germany for Bibles and parts of Bibles in German, Polish, French and Russian tongues for distribution at the front.

It was learned at the Bible House in New York City that the British and Foreign Bible Society of London is also taking steps for this Christian work, and is having the co-operation of the French Bible Society of Paris.

The Prussian Bible Society of Berlin and the Wurttemberg Bible Institution of Stuttgart are known to be entering upon Christian work in the vast armies.

NOT WHAT THEY WERE LOOKING FOR.

The farmer who saw some recompense for his short crop in its higher price per bushel sees that he is not to be allowed to monopolize that profit, but must share it with the farmers of other lands. There may be philosophy in this, but it was not just what the farmers were looking for when by turning away from the Republican ticket at the last presidential election they helped put the tariff into the charge of a Democratic administration and Congress.—Philadelphia Press.

THEY HAD A SPOON.

"Not long ago," relates Ex-Speaker Cannon, "a young couple came in from the suburbs in New York City to see the Hippodrome. They arrived very early and decided to have a lunch. They visited a tea-room, and had the place all to themselves.

"In serving them, the waitress omitted to supply a tea spoon, and the fair young bride whispered the fact to her husband.

Summoning the waitress, the young man asked:

"May we have a spoon?"

"Why, certainly," replied the girl, "I am tidying up, and you can have the whole room to yourself in a minute or two."—Lippincott's.

CONVENTION

Of Christian Churches at Ashland—Mason County Makes Fine Showing In Report

The Christian Church convention was on in full blast Tuesday. The attendance has not reached the mark set by the Ashland Church though the number bids fair to be over three hundred by the time the Christian Women's Board of Missions begin their session on Wednesday morning.

W. A. Fite, the successful pastor at Paducah, gave the president's address. It was considered by all to be a masterly effort. One was made to have an increased feeling of pride in this great commonwealth as well as to see the large tasks which lie before the Christian Church because of the peculiar conditions now presenting themselves in the different parts of the State.

The report of the State Secretary, W. H. Elliott, was very good. Though covering but eleven months it was equal to last year's report. Only a few sentences of the report can be given here.

Eighty-Second Annual Report of The State Board of Missions to the Kentucky Christian Missionary Convention.

Dear Brethren: We rejoice that we have been permitted to serve our common cause as other years, as the agents of our Lord and the co-operating Churches of Christ, in sowing the seed of the Kingdom in many needy fields.

We have found that we get a harvest from the seed we sow. When we consider the smallness of our efforts it is marvelous that so much is wrought. In the twenty-three years of service rendered by our present Secretary we have added to our numbers 47,737, have organized 227 churches and 857 Sunday schools.

When we remember that this work has cost the co-operating congregations a total of $225,000.00, and that is an average of less than $10,000.00, we are able to understand how large our harvests have been in comparison with our seed sowing. During these years we have raised almost $400,000.00 for local work and self-support.

We praise God for the richness of his mercies and rejoice in both the sowing and reaping that has been ours in His harvest fields. We submit to you

The Financial Statement

To balance on hand, September 10, 1913.....$ 387.35
 To collections from churches 11,573.25
 To receipts from other sources 1,102.82

Total.....$13,063.42

The men in the field have raised for self support.....3,980.05
 Local work, building and repairing houses, etc.....$921.61

Total.....$4,901.66

The amounts given to this state work by Mason County churches is as follows:

Bansley Creek.....$ 50.00
 Lawrence Creek.....10.00
 Mayslick.....50.00
 Maysville.....100.00
 Mill Creek.....30.00
 Carey M. Devore and wife, of Dover Church.....10.00

This totals $250.00 and gives Mason County a missionary in the field who in person is J. W. Master, of Corbin, an evangelist, who appoints his salary by money raised on the field and in other ways.

In the afternoon Christian Endeavor Temperance and Rural Church Problem were the chief subjects on which addresses were made. Suitable resolutions covering these topics were adopted. E. B. Barnes was elected president of the next convention. The other officers being about the same as last year.

The principle address in the evening was given by W. N. Briney of Louisville on "The Call of Kentucky." I was pronounced by all as a great speech. Many people of Maysville will remember Rev. Briney as Newton Briney who spent his boyhood days on Rosemont. He first considered the call of Kentucky which came from her original log cabin home where character were true and the Bible was read and cherished. In those homes could be found the genuine type of fatherhood and motherhood. A simple flock who thought little of the worldly but much of the heavenly claims.

Then he heard the call of the present, seeing the open doors and the great needs of the state. Then he heard the call of the future Kentucky, freed from the sin and the baneful curse. A Kentucky where all the sacred interest of our children were protected and where the home was not fighting against a present foe. After the convention session many of the delegates visited the rolling hills which have made Ashland the Pittsburgh of Kentucky.

WEEKLY SPORT LETTER.

(By C. H. ZUBER)

Cincinnati, Sept. 2.—While the two western contenders for the pennant in the National League—the St. Louis and Chicago teams—have suffered slight setbacks during the past week, neither team is to be counted an outsider in the battle for the flag which is now raging so fiercely. During the past seven days Boston has occupied first place for a few minutes, and St. Louis was within half a game of the place. But unexpected reverses, combined with victories for the New Yorks when the Giants were not expected to win, upset the odds and kept Mettraw's men in first place. During the present week Chicago and St. Louis will battle with the Reds, while the Bostonians are playing in Philadelphia and the New Yorks in Brooklyn. It's still an open flag for the "glad rag" with the St. Louis Cardinals and the Bostonians as the choice of the local fans in the order named.

Local base ball enthusiasts intend to show their appreciation of the ability, stamina and loyalty of Manager Charlie Herzog, of the Reds, by presenting him with a handsome testimonial on Sunday, September 13, on which occasion there will be a double-header at Kelland Field, with the St. Louis Cardinals as the Reds' opponent. Several hundred dollars have already been subscribed and additions are being made to the fund daily, many of these coming from the fans in other cities who occasionally visit Cincinnati and who have been rooting for and admiring the work of the Reds all season. The committee having charge of the affair has established offices in Room 311 of the Chamber of Commerce, where contributions to the fund are being received. The Cardinals, by the way, will be the opponents on the next two Sundays, playing on game on September 6, and the double-header above referred to on September 15.

New Orleans isn't the only city in the country where the business men are fighting for the resurrection of the racing game. A well organized effort is being made by the merchants of Hot Springs, Ark., to have the State Legislature pass a law permitting horse racing at the famous Spa, with the betpart-mutual machines. Eliminating racing has been found to be extremely detrimental to the business of Hot Springs, without increasing its moral tone in a general way. Hence the concerted action of the business men to establish the "sport of Kings," purged of the pernicious influences of the human hookmakers.

So numerous are the entries of Cincinnati's Fall Automobile Show that the officials of the Cincinnati Automobile Dealers' Association, under whose auspices the show will be given have been compelled to secure an additional wing of Music Hall in which to make exhibits. Because of the close proximity of the winter season, special attention will be given to the exhibiting of landaus, broughams, carriages, limousines and other closed cars. There also will be an extensive show of motor boats and aeroplanes, with a prospect at this time of a number of flights by demonstrators for various makes of air ships. The dates of the show are from October 3 to 10.

Efforts are being made by the sport writers of the country to clear up the doubts that exist as to the real champion of the middle-weights. There are some six claimants to the title, and each man has some argument that gives him the right to be considered. The more prominent personally named holders of the title are Jack Dillon, Jeff Smith, Jimmy Chubbey, George Chipp, Al McCoy, Eddie McGoorty and Mike Gibbons—and not a Jack Dempsey or a Bob Fitzsimmons in the lot. Under these conditions it might be a good idea to have a battle royal, throw the entire lot into the ring at once, and let the sole survivor wear the middle-weight crown.

MUST EAT LESS.

The European war is directly responsible for the increased price of foodstuffs, and the proper course is to eat less and select foods not hitherto used so extensively, according to New York's citizen's committee, which has completed its investigation.

The minority report of the House on solar affairs Committee on the pending Philippine Independence Bill declared that it would be "impolitic and unwise" to discuss the disposition of the Philippines "at this time." European conditions being what they are RED BOILING SPRINGS, Tenn., Aug. 28, 1914.—In my last, treating of the battle at Hartsville, it was charged that General "Drapsnot" Bragg was "SNOOPING" around; but the intelligent compositor and artistic proof-reader knew best and had him swooping. But let it go at that!

This is a veritable "God's Country," retaining up to the present very much of the glorious grandeur in which it came from the hands of the Great Architect.

Here and there, however, are a few spots which mark the touch of man. One of these is the Gingseng Farm of Mr. Wooten, some three miles "up the creek" and on the mountain top. The roads in this region have a habit of standing on end, and the route to his farm is no exception. Once there, one feels repaid for time and travel, for the proprietor courteously entertains and instructs his visitors. "You appear to have gotten up here where no one can find you," I ventured to suggest. "Well, when I located here twenty-three years ago," he said, "they couldn't find me so easily, but now there's no difficulty." His "clearing" embraces about a hundred acres, nearly all under cultivation. And such cultivation! In his garden he has two beds of gingseng, and golden seal, and grapes—the crops growing one above the other in that order. The first of these is 6 feet wide by 100 feet long, and the crop now growing on that 600 feet of ground this year will add $800 to the enterprising owner's bank account, most as good as raising tobacco. The gingseng goes chiefly to China at $7 per pound, while the golden seal, or yellow root, said to be the most profitable crop, is sold to American chemists at $5 per pound. His grape crop is prolific, and on the occasion of my visit he and his good wife had almost the entire rear porch floor covered with bottled grape juice—sufficient to supply Mr. Bryan with his favorite "cherry-wash" until its time for him to run for President some more. In addition to these products Mr. Wooten has a large bed of monthly strawberries, which were in full bloom and bearing, while every known vegetable filled his gardens. He informed me that he settled on this spot 23 years ago, with a single dollar, and that he had it yet; but didn't venture to say how many thousands had been added to it.

Another night at 9:30, while sitting in the quiet of my room, intently digging the Maysville happenings out of the newly arrived copy of THE LEDGER, there was a terrible explosion of dynamite within fifty feet of the hotel, which echoed and re-echoed in the mountains for several minutes. Many of the guests had retired, but the way they piled out of their rooms and filled the hallways was a sight for the gods. Few took time to don even their kimonos, and many of the ladies wore so thinly clad that the procession reminded one of an old-fashioned transparency show. The damage was nil, but the scene lasted all night, most of the ladies sitting up till daylight. The explosion was in the rear of the Negro cabins, the purpose being to frighten the colored waiters, and drive them out of the Valley, as some of the inhabitants of this region had declared that no "nigger" should make his home here. Several of the "help" lit out on foot-back that night, but most of them remained until, a few nights following, another dynamite stick was fired at a hotel farther up the creek, when there was an emptying of the entire valley of its colored help, and the hotel guests were waited on by the proprietors, their wives and daughters and such other white help as could be obtained. Funny, isn't it? They damn the Negro if he doesn't work, and dynamite him if he does! Following the second outrage the citizens held a well attended law-and-order meeting Sunday afternoon at which there was raised a fund of $250, as reward for the dynamiters. The cause being now removed, it is safe to say that the trouble is ended.

It's hard to start a rain along this sky-line, but when it does begin it takes its own time to quit, and it's more difficult to get away than it was to get here. I had planned to start home three separate mornings, but the heavy rains of the night before had made the mountain roads dangerous and frequently impassable. On Friday, however, a stalwart Tennesseean, for sufficient consideration, agreed to make the run to Hartsville, 20 miles as the crow flies, but of varying distances as the routes lay. In company of three ladies, all Kentuckians, we left the Palace Hotel at 9 o'clock. For several miles the well-drained roadway was quite good; but when the tableland was reached the bottom seemed to have dropped out, and our chauffeur skidded off onto a new route—somewhat longer, very much rougher, escaping the mountain slips only to encounter the dangers of drowning. Until the summit was reached all was well, but the descent simply showed a couple of streaks of ledge-rock where the road had been, and down which a stream was still flowing. We were now in a narrow mountain-hemmed valley, with Tate creek and our "Ford" disputing for mastery. Small streams fed the creek at frequent intervals, and it grew and grew as we proceeded, until it became a raging torrent. We must have crossed it fifty times, and each time it was deeper and muddier and wilder than before. En route we came upon Pleasantshade, a stringtown settlement of pure white buildings, that looked the home of perfect peace and contentment. Just here our "shofer" grew talkative. "This is the place," said he, "where the shooting occurred last week." Two men had been candidates for sheriff of the county, and the defeated one had sworn that his successful rival should not fill the office. And he didn't, for the rival filled him with slugs from a double shotgun, and then shot dead the village blacksmith, whose only offense was that he was then engaged in shoeing the sheriff's horse. Added to this gruesome story was the cheerful information that we were now coming to the creek crossing where a drummer had recently drowned in an attempt to cross. When we reached the place the driver covered the front of the machine with a cloth and sailed in, the water entering the bed of the machine, compelling the ladies to hold up their feet as high as was prudent, but the engine "went dead" near mid-stream. Fortunately a colored man, mounted on a harnessed mule had followed us from the village, anticipating our trouble. He soon rode into the surging torrent, hitched onto the front axle, and pulled us to the opposite shore—thus demonstrating that the Tennessee mountain mule is the only successful rival to the Ford machine!

Finally we reached the Carthage jike and howled into Hartsville in time to step on the train for Gallatin, which was reached at 2 p. m. Here was everybody in Tennessee and several other States attending the Fair and Horse Show, and not a room to be had. Consequently we took the night train for Cincinnati, reaching "Riverview" at 1:30 Saturday afternoon rich in "experiences", but happy in possession of life and limb.

The White Man's Burden

People are finding out that a lot of the troubles that go to make up life's burden are caused by

Coffee Drinking

Coffee contains a drug, caffeine—about 2% grains to the cup. It not only stands to reason, but has been demonstrated scientifically and in practical experience, that this steady drugging is a foe to health and comfort.

A great army of people have found freedom from coffee burdens, by changing to —a delicious pure food-drink made from whole wheat and a bit of molasses. No caffeine, no drug, no harmful ingredient.

Even children drink Postum freely with benefit; they can't do that with coffee.

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum, must be boiled, 15c and 25c pkgs.

Instant Postum, a soluble form, made in the cup instantly, 30c and 50c cans.

Grocers everywhere sell both kinds and the cost per cup is about the same.

PICTURES AND THE PLAY.

Charles Frohman is quoted as saying that the public is done mad and picture mad, and that if plays are to be popular they must be mad and plays. Persons fed upon picture melodrama which can be made to move as fast as the eyes of the audience can stand it, want nothing upon the stage that is not "sensational."

A good deal of gloomy comment follows Mr. Frohman's statement. What can be madder than plays we have already had is asked. "Already Fitch and Augustus Thomas are as old-fashioned as Shakespeare," observes the Philadelphia Inquirer. "One wonders what sort of plays those of the future will be."

But photographs have not destroyed painting. They have not reduced the art of description to the position of beggary. Why should moving pictures out the drama from the stage?

Very probably many indifferent plays will be unsalable. Many authors who have done no more than crudely to photograph life will find themselves either writing scenarios for photodramas or turning to other employments. Plays which have depended mainly upon their pictorial aspects—and they have been numerous—may give way to the films. But art will always fill the theater. The outlook is that we shall have fewer indifferent plays and musical shows which cost more, but are not worth more than pictures. There will still be room upon the stage for the really meritorious play. Mr. Frohman has "the honor to present" several plays who do not, and need not, fear picture competition. And he will furnish plays for them. Not the mad play, or the bad play, but the good play will survive. If there are fewer plays than we have had there will be fewer theaters built to fill an unfelt want and standing idle half the year. For the last few years there has been a surplus of theaters and not enough plays of merit to fill them at $2 a ticket. Picture plays at from a half-dollar to a dime are unquestionably better value for the outlay than many indifferent plays which have depended upon scenery, upon popular names and upon skillful press agency for their success.—Courier-Journal.

Meet at Detroit—Several Prospective Candidates for Commander-in-Chief

Detroit.—All Detroit shook hands with white-haired heroes of the Civil War. More than 5,000 members of the Grand Army of the Republic and affiliated organizations had reached the city when the forty-eighth annual encampment was officially opened.

It was stated at G. A. R. headquarters that 30,000 delegates are expected. The veterans were welcomed by Gov. Ferris and other citizens of Michigan. Several persons have been mentioned as prospective candidates to succeed Washington Gardner as commander-in-chief.

No veteran can hold the office two seasons in succession, and sentiment has not favored the election of a man who has not been a department commander. The following past commanders are said to be in the race: C. D. Blodgett, Ohio; David J. Palmer, Iowa; O. A. Somer, Indiana; Frank O. Cole, New Jersey; P. H. Coney, Kansas, and Thos. N. Seward, Oklahoma.

YOUNG MAN OF NERVE.

(Louisiana News.)

A young man named... one was imprisoned for seven hours in a well which caved in upon him while he was at the bottom of it, at his home at Month of Card, last Thursday. It had been digging the well and had reached a depth of about twenty feet when the accident occurred. The ground was of a marshy nature, which delayed the work of the rescuers for some time. Shortly after he was taken from the well he went for a swim in the Sandy River, and said he felt no ill effects from his underground confinement.

Second Day's Proceeding Interesting and Instructive

Demonstrations and Lectures all of High Class

The second day's meeting of the Teachers' Institute began Tuesday morning with many new members enrolled. Also, many visitors were present. Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart continued her talks on health, the special phases of the subject which she touched upon being ventilation, lighting, heat, position at desk, supervised play, dental examination in the schools, lies, the effect on the pupils of food, cleanliness and cigarettes. This was the chief lecture of the morning, while Mr. Croxton continued his work on music at regular intervals assigned him.

The afternoon session began with the usual music instruction. At the end of the period Mr. Croxton, assisted by Miss Frances Geisel at the piano, rendered two very beautiful solos—"Tharthy" and "Absent."

Miss Mastin of Lexington gave a brief but interesting description of the Model Lincoln School in Lexington. Here they have done a wonderful work with their model building and their roof garden school for tubercular children and have illustrated the fact that cleanliness and health must come before education. Mr. Croxton added to her statements many interesting facts concerning the school in which he has been an instructor for several years.

Mrs. Stewart gave an interesting account of the most perfect Model Rural Consolidated School in Kentucky. This school was erected by Mr. and Mrs. (Lewiston) Ballard of Louisville in honor of their son's memory is four or five miles from the city of Louisville.

Mrs. Stewart gave as the moral of her talk: 1. Build school houses for monuments. 2. Visit good schools for inspiration. She further discussed Right Conduct and Etiquette in the schools, encouraging supervision of the play ground. Since play is the best method of developing the instincts inherent in children the had instincts as well as the good, Mrs. Stewart further advised the teachers to cultivate confidence in the children as it is better to trust one hundred and be deceived than to mistrust one who is worthy of our confidence.

Mrs. Wamble, the president of Maysville W. C. T. U., made the announcement of the temperance lecture by Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, held at the courthouse last night.

After the afternoon recess Mr. Croxton sang the solo, "Gloria Rome," a pathetic little negro song.

Mrs. Abner Hord, president of the Woman's Club a brief but comprehensive account of the work done by the Woman's Club, especially in regard to its relation to school work. Mrs. Hord paid this tribute to the teachers: "A conscientious teacher stands pre-eminent among the artists of the world as the teacher works upon the most important of all material—the human soul." In connection with this she told of the formation of the Parent-Teachers' Association in Maysville. Mrs. Hord's answer to the question of "What is a Woman's Club?" is: "A place of meeting ground with purposes strong and high and broad; our aim toward the stars, who ever long to give the patient and listening world, sweeter music and nobler, purer tones; a place where kindly words are spoken and kinder deeds are done and hearts are fed where wealth of brain for poverty stricken and hand grasps hand and soul finds touch with soul—that is a Woman's Club."

The meeting was concluded by Miss Yancey's announcement that hereafter the meetings will be held in the auditorium of the High School.

Tires at Before-War Prices

Goodyear Prices

It is Folly Today to Pay More

30 x 3 Plain Tread	$11.70
30 x 3 1/2 " "	15.75
34 x 4 " "	24.35
36 x 4 1/2 " "	35.00
37 x 5 " "	41.95

There exists now a new, compelling reason for buying Goodyear tires. It results from War conditions.

These leading tires—built of extra-fine rubber in the same way as always—are selling today at June prices. That is true, we believe, of no other tire.

You will find today a very wide difference between most tire prices and Goodyear.

Due to Quick Action.

Early in August—when war began—the world's rubber markets seemed closed to us. Rubber prices doubled almost over night.

Men could see no way to pay for rubber abroad, and no way to bring it in. We, like others—in that panic—were forced to higher prices. But we have since gone back to prices we charged before the war, and this is how we did it:

We had men in London and Singapore when the war broke out. The larger part of the world's rubber supply comes through there. We cabled them to buy up the pick of the rubber. They bought—before the advance—1,500,000 pounds of the finest rubber there.

Nearly all this is now on the way to us. And it means practically all of the extra-grade rubber obtainable abroad.

To day we have our own men in Colombo, Singapore and Para. Those are the world's chief sources of rubber. We are pretty well assured of a constant supply, and our pick of the best that's produced.

We were first on the ground. We were quickest in action. As a result, we shall soon have in storage an almost record supply of this extra grade of rubber.

And we paid about June prices.

Now Inferior Grades Cost Double

About the only crude rubber available now for many makers is inferior. In ordinary times, the best tire makers refuse it. Much of it had been rejected. But that "off rubber" now sells for much more than we paid for the best.

The results are these:

Tire prices in general are far in advance of Goodyears. And many tire makers, short of supplies, will be forced to use second-grade rubber.

Be Careful Now

In Goodyears we pledge you the same-grade tire as always. And that grade won for Goodyears the top place in Tiredom—the largest sale in the world.

And, for the time being, our prices are the same as before the war. We shall try to keep them there.

We accept no excessive orders, but dealers will be kept supplied. And we charge them, until further notice, only ante-bellum prices.

That means that Goodyears—the best tires built—are selling way below other tires.

THE CYCLONE.

Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, "the Cyclone," came back last night and delivered another fiery temperance lecture. Mrs. Armour was greeted by a crowded house, many being unable to get into the courthouse and therefore listened from the outside.

About $300 was raised by the Drye after the lecture was over.

ELECTRIC SHOP

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC

The greatest bargain event ever known in Maysville is now a matter of history and I wish to thank those who so liberally responded to the invitation to participate in this great sale.

We regret that so many were turned away, our room and sales people not being able to serve the enormous crowds that thronged our store, yet it is a source of great satisfaction to know that all who were fortunate enough to secure the wonderful bargains we gave them went away happy.

In answer to the oft repeated question, "Why are you sacrificing these fine goods at such a ridiculously low price?" we answer, that "Having had the patronage and confidence of the people of Mason and surrounding counties for the past thirty-five years, we felt that we owed them something. Now we are happy in the knowledge of a duty well performed.

Again we thank you for your past patronage and confidence, and solicit a continuance of same.

Very Truly Yours,

J. WESLEY LEE,
